

Why choose World Organics products?

ONE

We believe that the products we put on our skins have the same effect as the foods we put into our mouths. Potentially harmful chemicals are absorbed into the blood stream and carried to every organ of the body including our heart, lungs, brain, and reproductive system.

TWO

Our bodies are poorly equipped to eliminate synthetic substances, and growing independent evidence suggests that toxic chemicals widely used in personal care products can accumulate in the body, and cause a frightening range of avoidable health problems!

THREE

Instead of using synthetic ingredients, we extract the nutritional and therapeutic ingredients that become our products from plants, using a revolutionary extraction method that produces a more concentrated, therapeutic product.

FOUR

Unlike most companies, including some that market their products as natural while using chemical solvents to extract the ingredients, our process involves flushing the plant with CO₂, which then dissipates leaving no toxic residue behind.

FIVE

Our plants are grown in the purest air of rural India, where we partner with family-owned farms. As we pay above market rates for our botanicals, these partnerships benefit the whole community.

SIX

We believe everyone has a right to know and decide what goes into our bodies, and we proudly display the percentage of organic and natural ingredients on our labels.

SEVEN

Nearly all of them are certified as 'organic' or 'made with organic' by BioGro, an independent organic certification body. This is your guarantee that everything in our products, including our natural fragrances, are clean, green and authentic.

EIGHT

We don't skimp on any of our formulations. Our products have very high concentrations of organic and therapeutic ingredients, and we use organic rose hydrosol instead of water.

NINE

World Organics is an Australasian owned company, and our commitment to safe and effective herbal formulas goes back five generations. Through our independent business partners we offer our customers personal consultations, group workshops, and 24/7 online ordering.

TEN

We ship our products direct to our customers. This constant turnover of stock ensures that our products are fresh when they reach you, and have not deteriorated on a store shelf.
